

Bee Hut Trap - By Best Bee Brothers

The Bee Hut Trap offers a classic style and proven method of carpenter bee control. Best Bee Brothers provides a paramount level of trap design, manufacturing capabilities, and distribution in the carpenter bee control market. Through our design principles and innovative philosophy, we are able to supply high quality traps to satisfy the growing demand for protection against carpenter bees.

How our trap works:

The patented design mimics the nesting habits and natural preferences of carpenter bees to lure them into the trap.

The body of the trap is made from thick natural wood. On three sides are specifically sized and angled entrance holes that invite carpenter bees in. The angled entrance holes minimize the light in the central chamber once a carpenter bee has entered the trap. The largest light source comes from the clear bottom funnel, drawing the carpenter bee further down. Once in the funnel the carpenter bee is truly caught! Our plastic funnel design eliminates clogging and ensures carpenter bees stay inside the trap. The funnel deposits the carpenter bee into the removable bottom receptacle.

When one carpenter bee dies in the bottom receptacle, it releases a pheromone. That pheromone is highly attractive to other carpenter bees, resulting in more and more carpenter bees continuing the cycle. The more carpenter bees caught, the more potent the trap!

The Bee Box trap is completely chemical free and low maintenance. Just hang or mount the trap and wait. Once the bottle is full, simply empty the bottom container. Our one of a kind funnel offers customers a wide variety of receptacles to use. The funnel will attach to any standard mouth mason jar, or plastic beverage bottle in sizes 12oz, 16oz, and even 2 liter! Each trap comes with both blue mason jar and a plastic bottle.
